A Message from the Board

On behalf on the Athens Area Walk to Emmaus Board of Directors, I'd like to welcome our twenty-two new Chrysalis members into the community. The radiance these beautiful young women exuded at Candlelight and Closing was obvious to all - yep, it was Jesus in them. Sunday's Closing once again emphasized to me how God works so well through the Chrysalis & Emmaus movements. It also reminded me we have an obligation to support these new Butterflies by our continued prayers. Just because the seventy-hours are over doesn't mean the battle is over. The enemy is ready to attack them at any time. Once Christ's sovereignty is declared, the devil goes into attack-mode.

Several months ago I saw something pretty neat in downtown Athens. I was getting a cup of coffee between Sunday worship and an Emmaus board meeting, and I had just stepped out of the café and was crossing Washington Street at Hull. Something caught the corner of my eye, and I glanced up Washington to see a Red-tailed Hawk barreling after a frightened pigeon. Almost directly over my head, the hawk captured the pigeon in mid-flight, and then alighted on a traffic lamp pole hanging over Washington, its victim clutched in its claws.

This scene wouldn't have surprised me if I'd been out on the edge of a field in the country, but to see such a sight right in the middle of downtown Athens was cool. Then something even neater happened. Another pigeon flew down Hull Street directly in front of the hawk's vision - which must have distracted the hawk for just a second - because it relaxed its grip, and the once-captured pigeon took off like a rocket. The hawk tried to play it off like it was supposed to happen that way, but it was obviously perturbed. It finally flew off in search of other prey.

I have a Sister in Christ who could see an earthworm on the sidewalk after a rainfall and write an Upper Room devotional on it. Frankly, I'm not any good at seeing the spiritual connections she does, but this one hit me then and there like a ton of bricks. The evil one is out there! He's ready to capture us if we're not careful - and we often fall into his snares. But we have Someone who can save us, who can free us from the enemy's claws. That person, of course, is Jesus.

Though (or maybe because) I've taught high school seniors for over twenty years, nothing could get me to be a teenager again. There's just too much "stuff" out there. The twenty-two Butterflies from Girls' Flight #14 need our continued support. They're away from the camp and back in the world - with all its distractions and compromises. The enemy will be out to get them.

Pray for Jesus' intercession. Write a letter of encouragement to one of them. Give one a phone call and ask how her Next Steps are going. Show you care.

Because He lives,
Keith Wilson

Registration Update

As of June 27, 2004, we have received a total of approximately twenty (20) Pilgrim applications to attend the MEN'S WALK (October 14-17, 04) and the WOMEN'S WALK (October 21-24, 04) . Anyone contemplating sponsorship of a Pilgrim(s) are reminded that applicant acceptance is for the most part determined in order by date that the applications are received. Good sponsorship is directly related to the success of each WALK. Please pray, pray, and pray again for those persons you are considering sponsorship.

DeColores!
